Halloween party set in Venice

The city of Venice, area businesses, the Venice Park District and Venice Fire Department will sponsor a Halloween party for youngsters at 6:30 p.m. Oct. 31 at the Venice Recreation Center, 323 Broadway Ave.

The party is open to children under 13 years; parents are asked to accompany small children.

Games, prizes and candy will be part of the festivities.

Wellness Fair slated for Saturday

Providence Occupational Health Services and St. Elizabeth Medical Center will sponsor a St. Elizabeth Health Services' Family Wellness Fair from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 22.

Screening activities — including hearing, prostate testing, blood pressure and body composition — will be available.

Arabics, Tai Chi, aerobics,

pharmacist and stress breaker

massage demonstrations will also be offered.

Seminars on living wills, women and heart disease, elderly depression, child communication, women's health issues and attention deficit syndrome will be available.

There also will be drawings for attendance prizes.

YMCA plans sleep-over Oct. 28

The Tri-City Area YMCA will hold a sleep-over for children between the ages of five to 12 years old on Friday, Oct. 28. The event will begin at 9 p.m. on Friday, and all children should be picked up by their parents on Saturday morning no later than 7:30 a.m.

Activities will include swimming, basketball and other gym games. There will be pizza furnished by Little Caesar's Pizza and soda. Children attending need to bring a swimsuit and towel, gym shoes and a sleeping bag or blanket. The cost is $10 per child.

For more information, call the YMCA at 876-7200.

Passing trucks on State Street have been the cause of many broken glass panes at businesses along the street. A rail, made up of granite materials, is being installed along the route.

Mill seeks ease on restrictions

IEPA permits sought

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

Saying its profitability is limited by environmental restrictions, Granite City Steel has asked the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency to ease those restrictions.

Company officials said the firm's ability to compete with other companies is being hampered by EPA-imposed restrictions that keep its production considerably below capacity.

Bob Maxwell, manager for public relations at Granite City Steel, said that the company is based on the amount of steel produced. That causes a major bottleneck by forcing the company to keep production well below the mill's capacity.

To be able to compete in the changing steel industry, National Steel Corp., Granite City Steel's parent company, is applying for temporary and permanent permits from the IEPA raising the cap on the amount of steel the Granite City Division is allowed to produce.

Maxwell said that the local mill has the ability at its BOR (Basic Oxygen Furnace) shop to make about 7,600 liquid tons a day to send through its casters. But the IEPA currently limits casters produced at Granite City Steel to 7,056 liquid tons a day. This puts Granite City Steel at

Officials back GCS effort

Bellcoff Selph Ellerman

Local officials say the closing of Granite City Steel would have a devastating effect on the Tri-Cities area and would probably turn Granite City into a ghost town.

"Granite City Steel is the lynchpin of the community. You yank that lynchpin and the rest of the community is in trouble," said Ted Ellerman, president of St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

SEMC is the second largest employer in the area, employing about 1,000 workers. Granite City Steel employs more than 3,000 workers and has a monthly payroll of $12.6 million.

National Steel President and CEO V. John Goodwin estimates that between payroll, property taxes and support of other local businesses, Granite City Steel pumps $1 billion to $1.4 billion a year into the local economy. As an example of the ripple effect a plant closure would have, Ellerman said the hospital (See OFFICIALS, Page 10A)

Free ride Rail property escaping taxes

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

Madison County property owners may be paying more than their fair share of property taxes because railroad companies are not pulling their load, the county supervisor of assessments says.

Although the state has responsibility to assess railroad property, county Supervisor of Assessments Mark Harris has discovered at least 69 parcels of property in the county that are owned by railroads and appear to be assessed as having no value — even though many obviously have considerable worth.

Several of the parcels are leased out by the railroad companies to farmers. Thus, the railroad is receiving revenue from the land but not paying property taxes.

Harris' office is continuing to search for similar property that has apparently been "lost" from the tax rolls.

"We are notifying the railroads to come in for hearings. We are considering trying to collect back taxes to 1972, but that decision will be left to the Board of Review," Harris said.

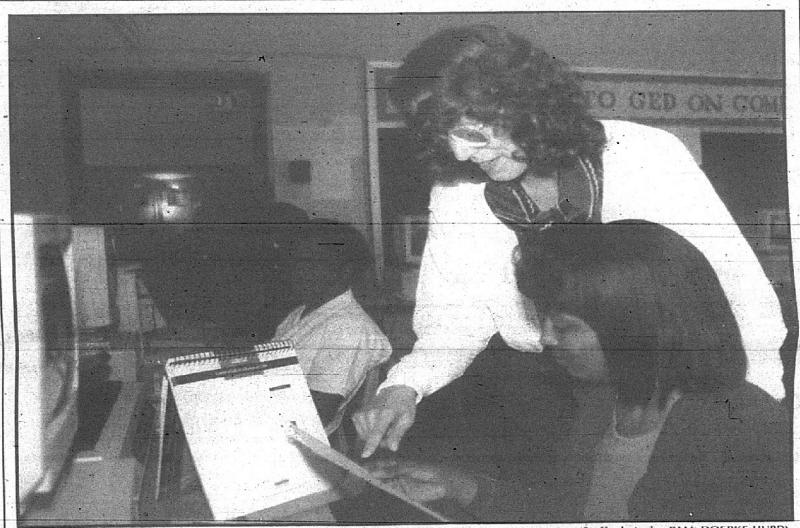

Much of the (unassessed property) is junk — like under the overpass in Venice — strips that are maybe 10-feet wide by 30-feet long that have no real use.

There is also some pretty big farm acreage," Harris said.

Railroads pay property taxes to the state based on length of track. That money is then distributed by the Department of Transportation.

But many railroads also own parcels that have no track or other improvements on them. The rail

St. Elizabeth joins health-care alliance

St. Elizabeth Medical Center and two other Illinois hospitals announced this week they are joining the United Health Network — an alliance of health care providers united to help contain spiraling health care costs.

"We are delighted to be a member of a network that shares the same high-quality standards and a commitment to the communities we serve," said Ted Ellerman, president of SEMC.

Ellerman emphasized that SEMC will continue to be owned by the Sisters of Divine Providence with its local government and control and that the move is not a merger.

Unity Health Network was formed in January 1994 by three Missouri health care providers: St. Anthony's Medical Center, St. John's Mercy Medical Center in Washington, Mo., and St. Luke's Episcopal Presbyterian Hospital.

In addition to SEMC, Saint Anthony's Health Center in Alton and St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Belleville have joined the network. "The addition of our Illinois partners to Unity will help us achieve our goals of improving the community's access to high-quality, affordable health care," said

Mark C. Johnson, chairman of the Unity board of managers and president of St. Anthony's Medical Center. "By expanding Unity's presence into Illinois, we can provide quality health care not only to businesses and individuals in Illinois but also to companies with employees on both sides of the Mississippi River."

Unity currently offers a network-wide occupational medicine service and a managed mental health program. Grisham said the network will consider additional network-wide services during the coming months, including expanded outpatient dialysis, mobile mammography, cardiac rehabilitation, home health service — including mobile equipment — and preventive screening programs.

"By sharing such services, the network will be able to enhance quality, reduce

Comments sought on cleanup

The United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) Region 5 is seeking public comments on a proposed plan to clean up lead-contaminated soil on about 6,000 residential properties in Granite City, Venice and Madison.

The contaminated soil came from the NL Industries Corp. Superfund site in Granite City. Based on current information, EPA has calculated a safe cleanup level for lead in residential soil at 500 parts per million.

Under the proposed plan, which evaluated results of scientific studies, EPA is continuing to review cleanup alternatives for the Tarscory pile, mainly industrial soil and ground water. EPA will do pilot studies and release another proposed plan in 1995 for these areas.

The Pontoon Beach Board of Trustees will meet with David Jones, owner of Chouteau Bay apartments, after questions from residents over recent meetings arose at Tuesday's regular meeting.

In 1991, the Pontoon Beach board agreed to allow Jones to build seven 12-family apartment buildings. Four of the buildings were completed, and three more were to be built at a later date.

But the village's building code has been changed since the time the board approved the project.

Residents reported that he noticed construction at the apartment complex site, and asked if Jones was still in compliance with state codes.

Jones said he did not see an architectural seal on the building prints. Jones turned in to the village — as the village requires. He also noted that because the buildings are three story buildings, they need to be equipped with sprinkler systems and two exits, for fire safety reasons.

"Just because the board approved it three years ago doesn't mean he doesn't have to meet today's code," Macek said.

He said that the village's building inspector, Bob McHalemy, has refused to approve the plans.

Mayor Glen Wilson said Jones told him the sprinklers would be added, and Wilson said he thought the exits were in place.

Macek said that either way, the board gave Jones the approval to begin building again, and "I don't think permits can get issued by someone who isn't qualified," he said, referring to Wilson.

"I don't want you inferring that the village is doing something in violation of

'Green pages' worthwhile

We hope Madison County officials proceed with a proposal to prepare and distribute a "green pages" pamphlet that will direct residents to recycling opportunities.

With growing environmental awareness, many county residents are realizing their legal, social and moral obligation to recycle. Most people who are motivated to recycle have figured out what to do with the basic aluminum and glass. But many people are either unaware that many other products, from used motor oil to old paint, can also be recycled or they don't know where to take such products.

The proposed county guide would be a useful tool to would-be recyclers, would help the county in its long-range goals of meeting state mandates to reduce the amount of trash dumped in landfills and might even help reduce the amount of trash dumped at roadsides and in ravines.

County officials, who envision at 12- to 15-page booklet that residents could readily store with their phone books for quick reference, are looking into the costs of such a project and would need approval of the county board and its environmental control committee.

We think the project is well worth county support. It won't be long before Madison County gets into recycling in a big way with the planned construction of a materials recovery facility designed to sort recyclables and direct them to manufacturers who can use them.

A basic component of every recycling program is already operating in county schools and businesses.

It's not too early to start expanding that educational campaign to each and every resident, and the proposed green pages pamphlet is an ideal way to do it.

School bonds demand support

TO THE EDITOR:

After reading your articles and your editorial regarding the proposed renovation of Granite City High School, I am convinced that we must support this proposal. At a time when people are voting against government in all areas, we must not confuse this proposal with other political issues.

The fact is that our high school is 70 years old. As with any structure of this age, simple repairs and maintenance are always the answer to existing problems. New technology and the use of computers require a better electrical source than could have ever been planned when the building was originally built. New energy efficient windows, doors and heating systems will provide utility savings in the future. New classroom space and better lighting will provide a better learning environment for our children.

Voting yes for this bond issue will not increase the current tax rate. As I understand the proposal, all the money raised from this proposal will be used to restore and repair the school. What better gift can we as a community give our children than a state-of-the-art high school?

We as taxpayers have the opportunity to promote one of the most important features of our community without increasing our taxes. Failure to pass this issue will mean that our local high school needs work. Let's show surrounding communities that we are ready to take a positive step into the future. Support the referendum to restore and renovate Granite City High School.

BUD CHARBONNIER
Granite City

Voters should seize chance

TO THE EDITOR:

I am writing in support of the proposed bond issue to restore and renovate Granite City High School. Our first consumer part of the high school in 1971, I stood across the street and watched helplessly as the building burned. I like the building better, like the one that I know that part of my childhood memories were going up in the flames that evening. Fortunately the fire was contained and the biggest part of the building was not damaged.

Now we have the opportunity to restore this building. We can provide an environment where our children can learn and grow. Let's continue to receive a quality education in a building they can be proud of. A newly renovated building should provide excitement and an incentive for children to learn among our students.

During the 1971 fire I felt helpless and knew there was nothing I could do to change the outcome of that night. Now we all have the opportunity to help By supporting this bond issue we can restore this grand old building and give back a little that we have taken from it.

Harold Gebhardt
Granite City

Pontoon should slow spending

TO THE EDITOR:

I am writing in response to the write-up in the in the Sept. 21 Granite City Journal, "Pontoon board looks at cost saving plans."

I thought that the five-percent tax on the board was a good change back on its feet. Members of this board said before they were elected they would slow down the spending and use the utility tax to get the village out of debt. I don't see this happening.

The clerk's office wants a new computer system. The old one is only 10 years old. What's wrong with the old one? You can upgrade, computers cheaper than buying new ones.

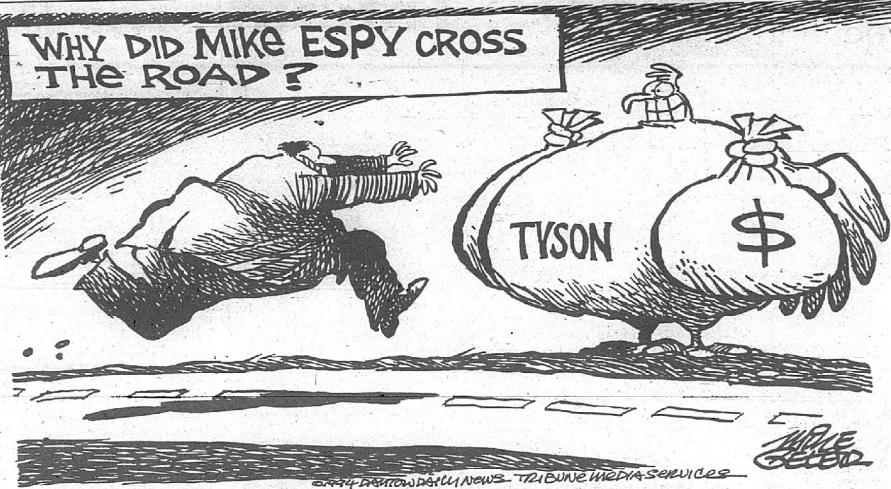

I can see the need for new street lights in the village where there is none for the safety of the people. But I can't see replacing vapor lights with sodium lights. That costs the village money and makes the village look like a mud hole. This is being spent "for a brighter future." If we run out of money, how bright can the village's future be? (News article, "Pontoon Beach getting new lights" July 20)

This is my main reason for writing: I don't think we need the light-duty police officers. Frankly, what I understand is that the officer will full wages and the workers' compensation pay back 66 percent to the village. If a police officer is on workmen's compensation for six weeks, the village will pay him his wage of $300 a week, workmen's compensation will give back to the village about $200. If the police officer is on light-duty, he will get his full $300 and gets no money back. If a police officer is off on workmen's compensation for six weeks, the village will pay him his wage of about $1,200. If he is on light-duty, the village said that the workmen's compensation premium will raise more than the village can save with a light-duty officer?

The village wants the light-duty police officer to answer the telephone and to write reports. I would not want a police officer who is on medication or in pain handling my call or writing up my report. I would not want an officer who will not be on medication at work. If this is the case, the officer does not need to be on workmen's compensation. He would rather be off and stay home and get well and come back 100 percent. If the officer gets hurt when he is on light-duty, the village may end up paying a 100-percent disability money. Will this save the village money?

The residents of the village need to let the village board know how they feel about the light-duty police officer.

McGinnis did much for community

When my wife, Lois, served on the board of the Tri-City Chapter of the American Red Cross, her fellow board members included Frank McGinnis of St. Elizabeth.

Both were accountants and had friendly conversations about the accounting profession.

His death Aug. 16 came as a shock to the thousands in this community who knew him and liked him. He resided in Collinsville.

I met Frank quite a few years ago. He was a member of the SEMC advisory committee and he was a key hospital administrator.

He was a member of SEMC, comprising in the financial committee in 1979 and senior vice president in 1994.

Frank was a past treasurer of the Red Cross chapter, past president of the Tri-City Optimist Club and past president of the Southern Illinois Chapter of the Health Care Finance Management Association.

During some of his stays as a volunteer or medical patient, despite his busy schedule, he never failed to visit my room to cheer me up and take my mind off my problems.

Frank gave helpful reports at committee meetings, supervised

Bill Winter

A number of hospital departments and programs, and shared overall responsibility in around-the-clock "duty officer" assignments.

Throughout his long association with the Granite City hospital, he greatly impressed by size, diversity and stature.

Frank retired last year but remained active as the 1994 most active chairman of the financial volunteers' fund-raising campaign, WINGS (We're Investing in New Growth at St. Elizabeth).

He is survived by his wife, five children and 14 grandchildren. Most of his family had been present at an SEMC dinner in 1993 when Frank was a surprise recipient of the hospital's highest honor, the La Crosse Award.

Jack Grimes, an SEMC vice president, said in the September issue of the hospital's "Health Talk" publication that McGinnis "was the type of person you hope you can be like. He kept things going smoothly. He was a unique person whose death leaves a hole in many lives."

Paul Raczkiewicz, executive vice president, said McGinnis "was a man everyone would like to emulate. He had a gentle, kind, always smiling and friendly. He was a good listener, adviser and friend. You always smile when his name is mentioned."

Pointed Ted Eiderman said, "His many attributes, when listed, certainly lead to the conclusion of the 'ideal' person. His dedication and loyalty to the organization and his commitment to his family serve as the standard — the ideal. He loved life and lived it well."

Sister Mary Thomas, chairman of the SEMC governing board, said, "At the funeral Mass, Father Hampshire summed up, 'Frank was a true friend.'

The family said memorial donations honoring Frank McGinnis may be made to the WINGS campaign.

Another longtime friend, Lamont Heidinger, died Sept. 25.

A resident of Edwardsville most of his life, Lamont was a former state legislator for the 19th District, Bureau of Investigation and then an investigator for the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

He owned the Francis' Painting and Heating Company and retired last year as secretary-treasurer of the Madison Mutual Insurance Company.

As a member of Rotary International for more than four decades, I got to know him through his service as governor of the local Rotary Club, which includes Madison County and extends as far north as Edwardsville.

He died on Sept. 25, 1994, at the age of 81. He was a member of the local Rotary Club, which includes Madison County and extends as far north as Edwardsville.

Mr. Heidinger was an outstanding example of a principled business executive and human being.

Memorials may be given to the Edwardsville YMCA or St. John's United Methodist Church, Edwardsville.

News of the rich, famous and notorious

Like the seaside conversation of the Walrus and the Carpenter, this week's column is addressed to "money things," and I don't mean ships and ships and sealing wax, cabbages and kings.

First, some of the money things in news of the rich and famous and the down-and-dirty notorious.

For instance, the conspicuous consumption department. I'd have given up my right to be pretty hard to beat that of the popular author of highly predictable next-step-to-junk novels, Danielle Steel.

Steel, who has recently published an autobiography, coyly admits to having shelled out a teeny bit on the occasion of her husband's 58th birthday, with a $100,000 party and about $200,000 more in gifts.

Further teakens of Danielle's love of family came when her small daughter, Zara, (and wouldn't you just know she'd name a kid something like that?) graduated from college.

Steel bought the tot $20,000 worth of Barbie dolls, 18 in all, gowned in designer dresses and furs.

Hard to imagine what the kid will get when she's out of elementary school and into junior high!

This, of course, is small spuds indeed compared to the engagement ring Irina Trump recently received from one Robert Maxwell. It's a "flawless Burmese sapphire with heart-shaped diamonds," worth a mere million.

Irina, who is a terrific guy who appreciates a good relationship. You can bet the farm on that! Diamonds may be a girl's best friend, but she may not be the couple's choices of residences, a $4-million love nest in London or her shanty in Florida shanty-town.

Then to the down-and-dirty. A porn actress, Tiffany Lards, is reportedly badly shaken because, she claims, she's been impregnated by an all people, Wayne Bobbit.

All she wants from Bobbit, she says, is for him to pay for an abortion, so she can get back to her career. She may have a tough road to hoe here, though, since he's been convicted (for the second time) of using his former fiancee, one Kristina Elliott, as a punching bag. He served 12 days in the big house and was then has been ordered back to jail to serve 30 more on the second one.

Speaking of porn movies, our boy is apparently starring in an autobiographical one, "John Wayne Bobbit," and will doubtless miss his Los Angeles premiere, due to his unfortunate incarceration. This guy never learns. Battering women was one of the causes of his instant fame, not that long ago, and he's still at it.

There's a surgical team out there somewhere who have a lot to answer for!

More information, I couldn't have given without. There's a new product available at a Beverly Hills boutique called Quake Wax.

You can stick expensive objects to tables during an earthquake and, presumably, the good crystal to the china cabinet. Assuming that you have time of course, and if the stuff you've established at there was no mention of how you get the priceless objects unstuck, later, but it has to be good.

The owner of the boutique made a gift of it to Prince Michael of Kent, and we all know how frequently London is devastated by earth tremors.

Now for the good news. As of last week, on Friday, Sept. 23, Superior Court Judge Lance L. was teetering on the brink of banning television cameras from the murder trial of you-know-who he has set for Oct. 20 as a hearing date for that decision.

I don't know how many of you read Mike Royko's column on a regular basis. If you do, you might come up with a suggestion that I can only applaud.

If, like Royko and myself, you feel there's been a horrendous overkill on the Simpson case, take pen in hand and write the good judge, urging him to cut off all coverage once the trial begins, as he did during jury selection.

Royko even provided the address: 100 W. Madison, Criminal Courts Building, 210 West Temple Street, Los Angeles, Calif. 90012.

It's worth every bit of a 20-cent stamp and a letter or two to write the simple request and lick the envelope.

This is going to be one circus in which I'm not anxious to watch the scene in the cloths.

SIU urged to step up program for health-care professionals are among recommendations of the health education task force.

The task force report, which stresses the need for better coordination among SIU academic units that train health care professionals, will be presented to the SIU Board of Trustees today and the board may consider adoption in November.

Health experts say that while Illinois is among the national leaders in the number of physicians produced, some parts of the state, including much of the study area, are underserved.

The task force found that "a principal shortage of family physicians, pediatricians and obstetrician/gynecologists exists now and is likely to continue through the year 2010," the 54 counties studied at the behest of the Illinois Board of Higher Education.

New or enhanced programs at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville's School of Education and School of Nursing are rural, community and interdisciplinary health care.

Collaborations between the SIU Dental School and the University of Illinois at Chicago and Northwestern University for faculty development and pre-doctoral education.

Starting a new dental hygienist program offered by Lewis and Clark Community College using the Dental School as a clinical site and coordinated with a planned new bachelor's degree program in dental hygiene at SIU Carbondale's College of Technical Careers.

Developing a physician's assistant program at the Technical Careers College, expanding programs from two to four years in dental hygiene, health care management, mortuary science, radiologic technology and respiratory therapy.

Mr. and Mrs.
Gerald
Mayberry
1954 and 1994

Mayberry - 40 Years

Gerald and Shirley Mayberry of Granite City celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary on Sept. 25 at a reception given by their daughter, Renee Mayberry, along with friends and family, held at the Granite City Township Hall.

The bride wore her original wedding dress while reaffirming their wedding vows with their pastor David Tyler of Second Baptist Church in Granite City.

The songs sang at the wedding on Sept. 17, 1954, "Always," "Blessed Be," and the "Lord's Prayer," were sung by Dana Wallace and Rich Kindle during the reaffirmation of vows.

After the vows, Rene sang "Love Will Be Our House" as a tribute to her parents. Amy Wigger played the piano for several songs.

Betty Grimes was the ring bearer, lighter as she did in 1954.

Rich and Betty Ambrose, Shirley's sisters, and Janet McAmish, cousin of Shirley, served as the bridesmaids, as they did in 1954. Bob Sanders was the best man and Bill McAmish and Jim Daily both served as groomsmen, as in 1954.

Rene served as matron of honor for her mother and was the master of ceremonies for the program that followed the ceremony.

Soloists were Rich Kindle, Rene Mayberry, Dana Wallace and Mary Tadlock.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Butler of Fenton, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jameson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boger, all of Prospect, Ill.; Rev. and Mrs. J.D. McCarty and Mr. and Mrs. Niles Leach, all of Energy, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schneider of Mount Prospect, Ill.; Rev. and Mrs. J.D. McCarty and Mr. and Mrs. Niles Leach, all of Energy, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Greg Ambrose and children and Betty Ambrose, all of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert McAmish, all of Mexico, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. Al Gammie of Farmington, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. Melburn Boger of Warsaw, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shepard of Orlando, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. Wally Jung and daughter of Washington, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Boger and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Fromme and daughter, all of Belvidere.

Mr. and Mrs. Denny Boger of Wood River; Mr. and Mrs. John DeWandre, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Ambrose and Kelly and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Wigger and Amy, all of Florissant, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. Kurt Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Kurt Wallace and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. John DeWandre, all of Belvidere; Mr. and Mrs. Rick Stauder and Mr. and Mrs. Michael Turck of Carni, Ill.; Linda Menard and Todd Norman, both of St. Louis; Mr. and Mrs. John Ischard and Donna, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hesch and Mr. and Mrs. Luke Wrischuk, all of Belleville; Dr. and Mrs. Dennis Fry of Ferguson, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. John Farrell of Fosterburg, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Price of Bonne Terre, Mo.; and Martha Lane and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gardner, all of Edwardsville.

Elmer Eckert

Elmer G. Eckert, 88, of Edwardsville, formerly of Granite City, died at 1:15 a.m. Wednesday, Oct. 12, 1994, at University Manor in Edwardsville, after a one-year illness.

He was born Jan. 9, 1906, in Darmstadt, Ill., and had been a resident of Granite City for 54 years prior to moving to Edwardsville six years ago.

A baker with the St. Louis Baking Shop for 31 years prior to his retirement in 1971, he was a member of Concordia Lutheran Church in Granite City, where he was active in the Laymen's League.

Mr. Eckert was active in the Boy Scouts for 34 years, a Silver Beaver and a former neighbor.

hood commissioner with Cahokia Mounds Council.

Survivors include two sons, Donald Eckert of Pleasant, Mo., and Robert Eckert of Seattle; one daughter, Lois Eckert of St. Petersburg, Fla.; one sister, Ruth Eckert of Collinsville; eight grandchildren; and seven great-grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by his wife, Ceresa (Fischer) Eckert, who died in January 1986; his parents, George M. and Katherine (Herberger) Eckert; five brothers; and two sisters.

Visitation is from 4 to 9 p.m. today at Mercer Mortuary, 1416 Niedringhaus Ave. and 9 a.m. Saturday, Oct. 12, 1994, at his residence after a sudden illness.

Born Aug. 6, 1906, in Granite City, he was the Baptist pastor of St. John Cemetery, Granite City. Memorials are requested for Concordia Lutheran Church.

A disadvantage in competing with other firms, whose profitability is limited by such factors as production capacity, bottleneck in the production system and ability to get the product to customers, he said.

Maxwell said that, while domestic steel producers focused their attention on foreign competition over the last 20 years, the emergence of mini-mills became the biggest competition in the steel market. The mini-mills are competitive because they cost less than the big markets, and thus can cut costs per ton by 15 to 30 percent, Maxwell said.

"The mini-mills are going to eat us alive in the next five years," he said. "We can't get our costs down," Maxwell said.

V. John Goodwin, president and CEO of National Steel, said that the IEPA's permit application to allow the Granite City Division to compete with the mini-mills that are scooping up market share in the steel industry.

He projected that — without changes such as price increases (which the market will not bear) or reduced production costs — as much as 40 percent of National Steel's market could be eaten up by mini-mills or other competitors in the next eight years.

Without changes, "only the mini-mills and the big producers such as Bethlehem Steel and U.S. Steel will survive," Goodwin said.

Right now, while demand for steel is high, the best way to reduce costs per ton (and increase profitability) is to increase production, Goodwin said.

"In short, increasing our production capacity would increase profitability," Goodwin said.

Maxwell said Granite City Steel is also working on other ways to increase efficiency.

Goodwin vowed that National Steel will remain committed to applying all environmental regulations during the permit application process.

"We will make all of our steel in an environmental way, and remain in compliance with all applicable environmental regulations during the permit process," he said.

Maxwell said that the IEPA denied a request for a temporary application to raise production limits, and that he agreed to change the way it figures compliance — which had the effect desired by the company.

While the IEPA had in the past considered production based on a period over a one month period, now it will average the figures over a period of 15 months — from Oct. 1 of this year until the annual birthday celebration luncheon honoring the late Dr. King.

The Humanitarian Award has been established by the IEPA to recognize outstanding individuals who demonstrate the humanitarian qualities and phiosophy of nonviolent social change, such as those enunciated and demonstrated by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

The award will be presented in two categories: to a community member who is at least 21 and has been associated with an agency, organization, or business for at least three years; and to an employee of SIUE.

Nominees should have demonstrated how he or she: has increased understanding and tolerance for all people; embraces humanistic principles and ideals; has initiated or involved programs, services, or activities that have inspired tolerance, understanding, and sensitivity for persons of color.

For more information, forms and details regarding nomination procedures, interested persons may call 622-2020 or write to the Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs, Box 1088, SIUE, Edwardsville, IL 62026.

roads often lease the land for farming and the property is sold or developed.

Russ Semanisian, who supervises commercial and industrial assessments in Madison County, said that the apparently unassessed parcels in his jurisdiction are being classified as "rolling stock" and assessed by the state.

"But some of the parcels we have found aren't even anywhere near railroad tracks," Semanisian said.

Difficulty in tracking down the property in question stems from the fact that the Revenue Department's annual report to the county, which lists all railroad property by length of rail track but does not include parcel numbers, Semanisian said.

Records show no taxes being paid to the county on either parcel since at least 1972. Both parcels have been farmed for many years.

"The state sends us a report every year, but I can't make heads or tails of the report," he said. "I'm going to have to go to Springfield to see if my concern is up there," Semanisian said.

So far, the county has discovered 69 such parcels totaling about 335 acres, Semanisian said.

Two parcels that appear in Harris' office to have no assessed valuation are located on a field between Missouri Avenue, 10th Street, Highway 3 and West Pontoon Road in Granite City. The Norfolk and Southern Rail Port District plans to place railroad tracks on the property next year. The $2 million project — funded by a low-interest loan from the state — is expected to increase railroad traffic by up to 20,000 rail cars per year.

The county's tax records show no assessed valuation for an 80-acre parcel at the site not far from the railroad tracks on 13th Street.

would have to reduce staff by at least 50 percent to survive a shut down of the steel company.

National Steel, the parent company of Granite City Steel, has applied for permits from the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency that would restrict the amount of steel produced in Granite City and allow the company to be more competitive.

In the past, if the mill was getting close to its quota as the end of the month neared, production had to be slowed, Maxwell said.

But because a 100-day shutdown of a blast furnace for a $70 million refining — temporarily suspended — will be completed next March or April, will slow production next spring. Granite City Steel can go full speed ahead and remain in compliance, Maxwell said.

Since 1972, National Steel has invested $5 million in environmental controls at the Granite City facility, Maxwell said.

ing the community to support the steel company. Shutting down 10,000 jobs at Granite City Steel would mean the loss of at least another 6,000 jobs," Bush said.

For example, Granite City Steel is planning to reline a blast furnace sometime next year.

It will cost $10 million to do the job, and pump about $70 million into the local economy by employing craft and trades workers.

National Steel officials, Elmer R. C. Bush, the chamber of commerce, Mayor Rose Selph of Granite City and Mayor John Bellcoff of Madison are all urging on production," Bush said. In addition to jobs, Selph said that Granite City Steel accounts for 25 percent of the property tax base in Madison. Without that base, the city would be unable to adequately fund fire and police protection and other vital services, Selph said.

"I would like to see the IEPA lift the cap on production," Selph said.

"Something has to be done. I have been to Peoria and have spoken with them (with the closing of steel plants). I'd hate to think what would happen to our area if Granite City Steel closes," Bellcoff said.

"I just want an architectural seal for the village of liability," Macek said.

At the request of Keith Jensen, village attorney, the board agreed to the architectural seal which would allow him to provide the architectural seal and come in compliance with state codes. Village Clerk Lou Whitsell said that Jones has paid for all of the necessary building permits.

Macek noted that the fees were paid last week — not when the permits were approved.

FEASIBILITY STUDY/PROPOSED PLAN

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (U.S. EPA) recently completed a Proposed Plan that evaluated the residential lead soil cleanup level for the NL Industries/Taracorp Superfund Site in Granite City, IL. Based on current information, U.S. EPA calculated the protective cleanup level for lead in residential soil. That level ranges from 410 parts per million (ppm) to 490 ppm. However, U.S. EPA is recommending 500 ppm as a protective, practical cleanup level.

U.S. EPA is continuing to review appropriate cleanup alternatives for the Taracorp pile, main industrial area and ground water. U.S. EPA will conduct pilot studies and release another proposed plan in 1995 for these areas.

Copies of the Proposed Plan and other site-related documents will be available for review at the Granite City Public Library, 2001 Delmar Ave., Granite City. An administrative record, which contains the documents upon which the cleanup plan will be based, has also been placed at the library.

After 25 years, church secretary retires

Mary K. Groshong has retired from her position as church secretary at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church.

She began her 25 years of service as church secretary and financial secretary under Rev. Paul Sims. She served full time as church secretary under Rev. Roy Baugh, Rev. William Mathison, Rev. Louis Beck, Rev. John Hall, Rev. Ralph Totten and Rev. Bruce Rushing.

A reception for Groshong was held Oct. 9 in the church parlor. During the reception, a fellowship service, a celebration of ministry and retirement was held. Elizabeth Briggs presented a tribute to Groshong, and Mark Kleinendorf presented her with a monetary gift from the congregation.

Groshong says she has enjoyed her job and always tries to be helpful and friendly. While she could not offer counseling, she was willing to listen to those in need. To her, it was just a job, but a 24-hour-a-day position. Although she will miss her work, recent health problems have led her to retire. She has been a member of the church for more than 40 years and will continue to be active in the church.

Groshong is very well thought of by the church's congregation. During a recent hospitalization, she received more than 200 cards. When doctors saw the dozen or more fans of the newspaper in her room, they asked if she was "someone famous".

Groshong is married to Bruce Groshong. They have two sons, Bruce and Tom, and two granddaughters, Courtney and Holly. She raised, as her own, her nephew, David Sellheimer, and niece, Susan Sellheimer-Baska. Her parents, Clyde and Eula Meyers, have also been members of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church for more than 40 years.

Graduates from Manatee College

Janet Rutkowski, formerly of Granite City and now a resident of Bradenton, Fla., graduated with honors May 6 from Manatee Community College.

Rutkowski, a registered nurse, is employed with the Manatee Memorial Hospital Cardiac Unit. The 1970 graduate of Granite City High School is the daughter of Betty Rutkowski and the late Michael Rutkowski of Granite City.

Return from Northeast vacation

Edward and Mrs. Stephen Yencho have recently returned from a two-week vacation through the Northeast. They spent a week with their son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Michael Yencho, in Hebron, Conn. While there, they were joined by their son, Dr. Stephen Yencho of Stamford, Conn., who accompanied them to Washington, D.C.

On their return trip, the Yenchos visited the Museum of the Civil War and the National Military Park and Battlefield in Gettysburg, Pa.

Birthday celebration

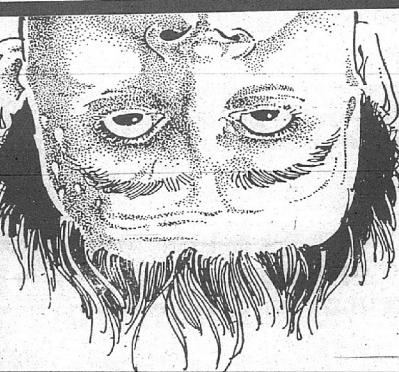

Victoria Popelchak celebrated her eighth birthday recently with a party hosted by her mother, Alicia Popelchak, at their home.

The hostess and honoree greeted the guests dressed in birthday attire. "Clown bean bag" was played with winners receiving birthday balls and birthday maze puzzles.

Trebor the Clown entertained the guests with a magic show, juggling, balloon art and face painting. The birthday honoree assisted with the magic show as goldfish crackers were turned into goldfish.

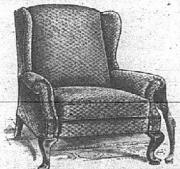

Guests were served hot dogs, chips, fruit punch, birthday cake (decorated with balloons, clown and balloon boy and face paint). Each guest received a birthday surprise pack and enjoyed outside trampolining, as well as merry-go-round rides and see-sawing.

Those in attendance were Michelle Abbott, Elaine and Steven Atteberry, Jerry and Linda Gaskill, Martha Hall, Diane Hankes, maternal grandmother, Mae Hendrickson, Kristin and Michelle McKinney, Melissa Mullen, Pamela Stephens and Healthy Wineberry.

THE LAW AND YOU

By RICK REED
Attorney At Law

Sometimes landlords contact this office and ask what they can do if a tenant is injured on their property. With many rental units, the tenant rents the apartment itself and the landlord retains control over common areas such as stairways, passageways, and hallways.

Whether or not the landlord can hold responsible for injuries sustained by tenants and their guests depends upon the way in which the accident happened in each particular situation. Generally speaking, if the landlord retains control over a part of the property for the common use of several tenants, he has a duty of exercising reasonable care to keep that property safe. The duty of exercising reasonable care in maintaining the property is owed not only to the landlord's tenants, but also to any guests on the premises.

In one recent case, an eleven year old girl was visiting with three children in an apartment complex. As part of a game, the children chased each other down a hallway which had a door with fifteen small glass panes. At one point, the plaintiff in this case ran toward the door as it was closing slowly toward her. As the child reached for the doorknob, the door quickly slammed shut and her hand met one of the glass panes of the door. This caused her hand and arm to be forced through it, causing permanent scarring and disfigurement.

The trial judge entered judgment in favor of the property owners. The plaintiffs took the case on appeal and argued that the door was unreasonably dangerous because it was defective and dangerous to the defendants. The injured plaintiff noted that as she approached the door, it began closing slowly. When she reached for the doorknob, however, the door quickly slammed shut on her hand.

The Appellate Court found that the landlord was not liable for the injuries sustained by the young girl. The Court felt that the plaintiff failed to show that the owners of the property had knowledge of the existence of the dangerous condition of the door. The tenants indicated that the defendant had never witnessed the door closing in this fashion, nor had they received any complaints in that regard. In conclusion, the Appellate Court noted that a landlord will not be liable for injuries which are not reasonably foreseeable.

Howard guarantee originated at ESL

Dana Howard, the premier linebacker of the University of Illinois football team, said his prediction of victory over Ohio State was related to his being voted captain the Monday prior to the game.

Hogwash! Howard was doing nothing more than what he had done all year. He was an impressive figure at East St. Louis Senior High School.

"I SAID WHAT I thought they wanted me to say," Howard said of his teammates after a 24-10 victory.

"The team backed me up today," said Howard after he led them with 14 tackles, two sacks and one interception.

Yet, five seasons ago, according to a story told by a former St. Louis High football player, Howard already had set the bar for his prediction act.

"We were walking from the locker room to the field at the Stadium at Belleville to play Belleville East, and this guy is from St. Louis," Howard says now, telling us how we're going to get beat when we play East St. Louis," the former Junior Bill (who prefers to remain anonymous) told us. "We had a tradition of re-entering the bus in single file, and as we returned to the bus, the guy was there again, but this time with three of his friends.

"Before the game, I didn't pay any attention to him, but after our game with East, someone said, 'That's Dana Howard.' I said, 'We all knew who he was when we played East St. Louis because he was all over the field — and we got beat like he said we would.'

The holder of the UI of I career tackle record with 512 after the Ohio State game, Howard might well reach the figure by season's end. He's 600 yards from his career's sure bet for professional football.

Wouldn't it be something if the Miami Dolphins drafted Howard and put him in a system with Bryan Cox? Now that would be intimidating — with or without predictions.

OVERTIME: A pair of Southern Illinois area high school coaches reached milestones recently — Fred Rankin of Alton and Dei and Larry of Althoff.

Rakers gained his 500th volleyball victory to become the first Illinois prep coach to reach 500 in that sport, while Rankin notched his 300th soccer triumph.

To the credit of both, they pointed to the players they coached as responsible for the victories. Rakers is in his 19th season with the Knights, and Rankin in his 18th with the Crusaders.

FOOTNOTES: The annual Granite City Tournament of Champions again presented a lineup of some power players, all set to be the best high school soccer tourney in the country.

The 16-team field began play last week with combined records of 32-11.

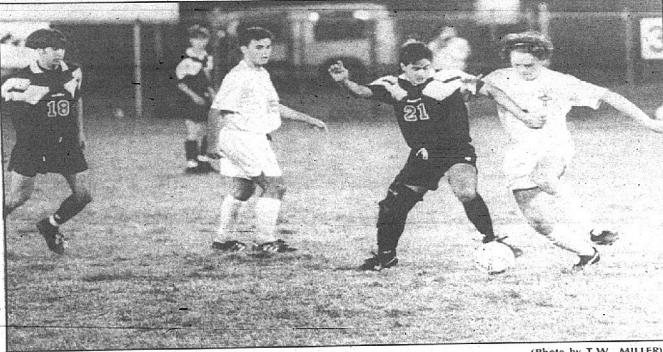

St. Mary's of St. Louis and St. Louis U. High advanced to the final, which were postponed by rain until Oct. 22.

Already, their records were among the worst, with St. Mary's at 8-2 entering the tourney and SLUH at 4-6.

Granite City, 1-14-1, is to Mississippis small-school state champion Aquinas-Mercy was a credit to Warrior Coach Gene Baker and his players. College scouts at the tourney indicated I had four NCAA Division I prospects.

After a one-week hiatus, the 14th annual Granite City Tournament of Champions will resume at 7 p.m. Monday when St. Louis U. High takes on St. Mary's in the tournament title game at the Gauntlet.

The tournament will be completed following last Saturday's rainout at GCHS. The third-place game will be on Saturday, and a straight year because of poor weather, and the title game was also put on hold.

BUT THE JUNIOR BILLIKENS and the Dragons will return to finish up one of the most exciting tournaments in recent history. Play was interrupted by a weather delay on Saturday, following two semifinal games in the morning.

The game is an old-time classic matchup, Bokern said. "We're looking forward to it."

Both teams reached Saturday's semifinal round after registering upsets the day before. On Friday, St. Mary's surprised De-

The Dragons continued their march through the tournament by defeating Aquinas Mercy 1-0 in the first semifinal game Saturday morning. SLUH then defeated Vianney 1-0.

SLUH AND ST. MARY'S met again Sunday afternoon during the GCHS Bob Guelker Tournament. The Dragons won 1-0.

"St. Mary's is for real," Martel said. "They have a very good team."

The Dragons moved to 12-4-5 on the year Monday after tying Vianney 1-1. SLUH entered the week 7-5-5.

The Junior Bills are in the Tournament of Champions title game for the first time since 1992. They won the tournament in 1989 and 1996. The Dragons, in their third year in the tourna-

AHS, Hickman test Warriors

By Tony Panozzo
Staff writer

The Warrior football team has had its hands full with explosive running attacks all season. Another tough test awaits Friday when the Warriors visit Alton in a 7:30 p.m. Southwestern Conference game.

Big plays victimized the Warriors once again last week when they dropped to 0-7 after a 34-10 loss to Alton. The Vikings broke away for two long touchdown runs in the second half after a close first half. The speedy Vikings extended their winning streak with runs of 61 and 87 yards in the final two quarters.

GRANITE CITY WILL have to contend with more big-play threats this week again when it plays the SWC's Redbirds. The Redbirds' offense is led by running back Elmer Hickman, one of the area's best players at his position and a Division I prospect. Hickman has run for more than 900 yards this season.

The 6-1, 215-pound senior is being recruited by several major schools, including Notre Dame, Northwestern and Michigan. Hickman has been Alton's top offensive weapon all season and figures to be a handful for the Warriors.

"Everybody has been keying on Elmer," said Alton coach Jim Carter. "He's a lot of speed, but he mixes it up well. He's a great athlete. He's the mainstay of our offense."

— Elmer Hickman, GCHS coach Don Harris said. "He's just an excellent back. He's a big guy, and he moves well."

— "They're not their only weapon. They've got a couple of good backs that can run real well and

Lady Warriors enjoy Senior Night

By Rob Raphael

Senior Night usually gets a home team fired up, but the Lady Warriors made Alton pay for visiting at a bad time Tuesday.

Granite City was serving well and hitting hard as it rolled past the Lady Warriors 18-7 in a SWC match at Memorial Gymnasium.

BEFORE THE GAME, a group of five seniors, along with their parents, took part in a ceremony before a large gathering at the gym. Eric Alton, Jamie Bohenstiehl, Kellie Dellamano, Ann Roseburg and Melanie Tapp were all honored for their accomplishments.

During the Lady Warriors (11-13-2, 4-5 in the SWC) proceeded to manhandle the visitors.

"They were on top tonight — serving, spiking, from top to bottom, they were a good club," said Alton coach Dan Carter. "The fact that it was Senior Night didn't hurt."

"It was emotional and the adrenaline was going," said Lady Warriors coach Cindy Gagich. "The girls were having fun and enjoying themselves, and that's what it should be."

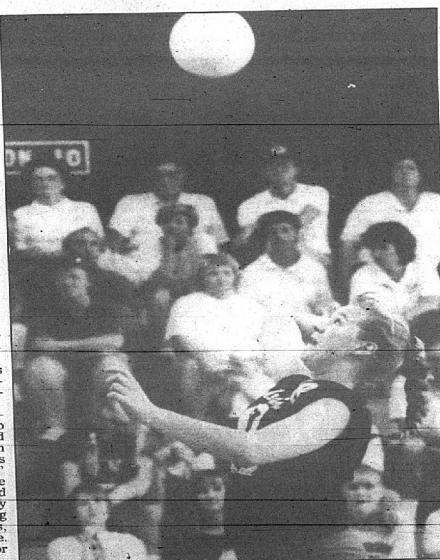

We're definitely pumped for the game."

Baker pleased with tourney showing; team has week off

By Tony Panozzo
Staff writer

The Warrior soccer team exited the tournament after falling 1-0 to Aquinas Mercy in the final round of pool play on Oct. 7. It was the first loss in five games for Granite City, which dropped to 14-14.

The Warriors won two earlier pool games against Aquinas and McClain. Now had and the edge in goal differential entering the game against Aquinas. GCHS could have advanced with a tie, but Kevin Kalish dashed those hopes when he scored with 1:32 to play.

ALTHOUGH THE LOSS was a setback for the Warriors, Baker said he was pleased with his team's play. Both teams had much better scoring chances than the goal by Kalish.

"We played very solid, stable soccer," Baker said. "I'm really getting

"I think we've established some credibility in the area and that's where we want to be."

Granite City was idle this week and will play its next game at home Saturday against Belleville West. The Warriors will wrap up the regular season next week with home games against Alton on Tuesday and SLUH on Thursday.

The regular season play will begin Oct. 22. The Warriors are in the SIEU Sectional and were expected to receive the No. 1 seed in a coaches' meeting Wednesday.

The Warriors took the field against Aquinas Mercy in their new all-black Look uniforms. The black jersey is being worn with black shorts and socks.

THE WARRIORS, however, have no more away games scheduled and might be sitting in their home dugout for the rest of the season, depending on how far they advance in the playoffs. The road jerseys could return to the Warriors' advance to the state tournament.

The overtime criteria developed by Baker for this year's tournament did not come into play Saturday. The both teams could return after regulation.

Under Baker's new criteria, tournament games that require overtime will not be decided by penalty kicks. Teams tied after

Harris calls his shots right at JV tourney

By Rob Raphael
Correspondent

If Tim Harris' confidence carries over into next season, the Warrior golf team could have quite a player on its hands.

Harris, a junior at GCHS, recently won the Belleville West JV tournament and both sections at Alton's Golf Course with a six-over score of 60.

IN ADDITION, HE predicted he would win.

"I told everybody that I was going to win the tournament, so it wasn't a surprise to me," Harris said. "I sometimes get a feeling before I play golf that it feels like it's going to be a good day or a bad day. And usually, it just felt like it was going to be one of those good days. That's how good it is for me."

More than 50 players from 12 schools competed in the tournament on Sept. 28, so Harris' win was no small feat.

Harris, 16, was to compete in the Future Tournament last Saturday, but the rain had rained out, so his competition in 1994 is over. He said he was already looking forward to next season, when he would play at the varsity level full-time.

He did spend some time this fall at varsity, where he competed in six events.

"I did pretty good overall (at varsity)," Harris said. "My score counted in most of them, so I'm they've got a big line to go with them. They have a good combination."

JOINING HICKMAN IN the backfield are sophomore Jesse Johnson and senior Ramelle Sheppard. James said Sheppard has been nearly as effective as Hickman.

"He has just as much talent," James said. "He's really done a good job."

Hickman and Sheppard have thrived behind a strong front line that includes just one senior, tight end Greg Miller (6-0, 180). The line is made up of seniors Matt Meersman (6-1, 235) and Brian Stahlhmidt (6-4, 276) and sophomores Matt Robinson (6-0, 280), Floyd Worm (6-0, 260) and Luke Mueller (5-10, 180).

"They were held to a first-half field goal last week in a 14-3 loss to East St. Louis, but poor weather conditions played a major role. The Redbirds failed to score after holding a 3-0 halftime lead against the Flyers.

happy about that."

HARRIS SAID HE credited a lot of his success to Granite City JV coach Allen Lobdell and varsity coach Bill Schmitz.

"He's been plus for us this year," Chaney said of Harris.

"He came in and won us a match or two, and he worked hard and generally performed very well. He bought us an excellent job."

Harris, who is the son of

Jackie and Dale Harris of Granite City, said he didn't have some work to do before next year.

"I need to improve my approach to the game — how to play the ball and where to put it," he said. "I have to learn

think it was really indicative of what they can do. They can run the football."

"I feel like we played a good first half, but the kids didn't have the same intensity level in the second half," James said.

"They played right with them," Harris said. "I don't think it was really indicative of what they can do. They can run the football."

He added he felt that his driving and his putting were the same points of his game, and sand play was probably his weakest.

"Sand play is definitely where I need the most work," Harris said. "That part is tough for me."

HE SAID HE WILL practice putting and chipping in his backyard for the time being, as long as the weather holds up.

Harris is among a group of solid players who have made the varsity golf team at GCHS next fall. He said he looked forward to playing next year with fellow JV players Chris Carpenter, Pat Logan and Howard until each side is left with three. No substitutions would be allowed except for injuries, and no players taken off the field could re-enter.

"The new rules will be used if Monday's title game goes into overtime. Last year, Vianney won the tournament after out-shooting Aquinas in a round of penalty kicks.

If used, the new overtime rules promise to make for an exciting ending.

"A lot of coaches said they didn't want to see it happen," Bokern said. "I hope it does happen."

GRANITE CITY COACH Gene Baker anticipates a hard-fought

"They dictated the tempo to us in the second half."

The Redbirds dropped Alton to 1-2 in conference play with two more games remaining against the Warriors and Belleville West. The Redbirds are 2-2 in the playoffs after finishing 3-6 last year, but James is taking nothing for granted.

"I've been stressing to my kids that we need to take one game at a time," James said.

"We hope to come out on the winning end against Granite City, but we can't overlook them. The kids have to be aggressive and play 100 percent."

HARRIS HAS BEEN searching for the same qualities from the Warriors all season. Granite City has given up 14 points over the past three games and has suffered from defensive lapses in each contest.

"We're looking for more consistency," Harris said. "It's kind of a catch-all statement for the team. He's got a quick release and he's a pretty accurate thrower."

Kevin Harris stepped in for junior Jeremy Hoback two weeks ago after working with sophomore coach Carl Luehmann.

"He's done a really good job with him," Coach Harris said.

Achilles-level. We have to go out and contain (Alton) and do some things on defense."

The Warriors' offense, meanwhile, has picked up in recent games after shutout losses to O'Fallon and Collinsville, sophomore Kevin Harris, son of former Granite City coach Jim Willis, returned to the net and the back line.

She finished with a game-high six kills, including five in the second set.

Jennifer Willis returned to the front at the net and the back line. She finished with a game-high six kills, including five in the second set.

Bohnenstiehl also picked up three kills while serving.

The Lady Warriors continue to reach slowly toward the .500

mark. The Warriors are 2-6-3 overall, with a 1-2 record in conference play.

As for the Redbirds (1-5), they are in a much-improved position from their match against the Lady Warriors in Alton last month. A small team, Alton registered no kills from the line, but Carl Coon was a defensive threat as she blocked five attacks at the net.

Against Howell, the second-year passer completed 16 of 27 passes for 165 yards. He hit Jim

Watkins with a 22-yard scoring pass and also found Jason Tally-man, Jason Mead and Matt Kelahan for yardage. Kelahan had seven receptions for 90 yards.

Bohnenstiehl followed with four points at serve, and Tapp added three points in the second game.

Willis did have help at the net

Tuesday, as Stephanie Brandt,

Amy Tapp and McMillan each added two kills.

"They were flat that night, and I'm sure they will be ready next week," Tapp said. "This is a game of momentum, so you never know how the game will pan

out. I think we'll be up for it, too."

Woman wants benefits after husband's disappearance

By Bill Hunot
Social Security Administration

Q. I am nearing age 60. I want to apply for Social Security widow's benefits. I've got a problem: I don't know for sure that my husband is dead. He disappeared more than 25 years ago and no one has heard from him since. Can I collect on his Social Security?

A. Even if you are unable to produce a death certificate for your husband, and it sounds like you cannot, Social Security may be able to presume your husband is deceased. And that would allow you to collect widow's benefits.

However, before Social Security will presume your husband is dead, and before you can collect benefits, you must establish that your husband has not been heard from for at least seven years, and has not been seen for no apparent reason during that period.

If his absence could be due to domestic or financial difficulties, or to some other rational reason, Social Security will not presume he is dead. Contact your local Social Security office for more information.

Q. I am 62 and retired. I would like to apply for Social Security benefits as soon as possible. So I am eligible for my own Social Security. I know if I take Social Security before 65, my benefits will be reduced. But I don't know whether to take my benefits or my late husband's. Can you help me?

Before Social Security will presume your husband is dead, and before you can collect benefits, you must establish that your husband has not been heard from for at least seven years, and has not been seen for no apparent reason during that period.

would be $800 if she takes widow's benefits at 62, she'll get a reduced benefit of $660.

She is also potentially eligible for a full retirement benefit of $600 at age 65 on her own Social Security record. If she takes her own Social Security at 62, she will draw a reduced benefit of $480 per month.

She can't draw both benefits at the same time.

Her options: She can take a reduced widow's benefit of $660 at 62. If she takes that option, her benefit amount would be $660 forever. In the meantime, she would get annual cost-of-living increases. Or she can start drawing her retirement benefit of $480 at 62 and switch to the full widow's rate, $800, at 65.

That's right. She can get a full unreduced widow's benefit at 65 even though she started drawing her own Social Security at 62. And if she waits on the smaller retirement benefit for three years, she may be much better off in the long run to take that option.

However, if she needs the higher income now, she may be forced by her circumstances to take the higher widow's benefits as soon as she can.

Her decision will be similar. Call 1-800-772-1213 and make an appointment at your local Social Security office. They will show you the dollar amounts you can draw under each of your options.

Address questions to Bill Hunot to West County Publications, 1724 Deer Tracks Trail, St. Louis, Mo. 63131.
